

Partylist Monitoring Matrix prepared by Kontra Daya March 30, 2010

Partylist Name (in alphabetical order)	Advocacy/Description	Nominees
1. 1st Kabagis partylist	Ilocano partylist group claiming to advocate “widening the segments of economic development”	National Security adviser Chavit Singson’s brother, Jose Singson, Jr, is also running as the second nominee of 1st Kabagis partylist.
2. 1-Utak	Partylist of transport sector	First nominee is former Energy Secretary Angelo Reyes. Second nominee is former LTFRB official, lawyer Vigor Mendoza.
3. Aangat Tayo	Partylist group led by Teddie Elson Rivera, an official of the state-owned Philippine International Trading Corporation. Claims to represent labor, urban poor, elderly, women, youth, and the overseas workers	Aangat Tayo’s nominee, Rep. Daryl Grace Abayon is the wife of Rep. Harlin Castillo Abayon (Lakas) of Northern Samar
4. Abante Tribung Makabansa (ATM)	Claims to represent indigenous peoples. Was endorsed by presidential adviser for Mindanao Jesus Dureza.	First nominee is former Army Col. Allen A. Capuyan. Capuyan was among those implicated by former T/Sgt. Vidal Doble in the “Hello Garci” controversy. According to Doble, Capuyan was among those who implemented “Project Lighthouse” or the wiretapping of personalities during his stint as head of the Intelligence Service of the AFP’s ‘special operations group’. ATM's second nominee, Reuben Dasay A. Lingating, is a former official of the National Commission on Indigenous Peoples (NCIP). He is a program officer of the Office of the Presidential Adviser on the Peace Process (OPAPP).
5. Abono Partylist	Partylist group claiming to represent the agricultural sector	The Abono partylist has Robert Raymund Estrella and Francisco Ortega III, who hail from the prominent Estrella and Ortega political clans allied with the administration.
6. Abot Tanaw		Sheryl G. See’s husband, Gerwyn See is the first nominee of partylist group Abot Tanaw. Gerwyn and Sheryl See are the Philippine master franchise owners of the Mrs. Fields Cookie Cafe chain.

		Its second nominee is Mario Cornista, a PAGCOR consultant who also happens to be the chair of the board of directors of BIDA, according to their SEC registration. The third nominee, Tomas Toledo, is a PAGCOR consultant. Both BIDA and Abot Tanaw are associated with PAGCOR chair Efraim Genuino.
7. ABROAD Partylist	In its website, ABROAD Partylist says it advocates a speedier process for Filipinos seeking work abroad and combating illegal recruitment.	ABROAD Partylist lists as its first two nominees Danilo Magsino Dy and Angela C. Dy. Danilo Dy owns the Montessori Professional College.
8. AGILA ng Katutubong Pilipino	Baguio-based partylist group claiming to represent indigenous peoples.	Nominees include DILG Usec and MWSS administrator Orlando Hondrade and former QC councilor Restituto Malañgen.
9. Ahon Pinoy	Ahon said in a statement that it speaks for the rights and welfare of overseas Filipino workers and their families as well as organizations of expatriates and immigrants.	First nominee is Dante “Klink” Ang II, son of publisher Dante Ang, who also heads the Presidential Commission on Overseas Filipinos. Second nominee is Emerito Remulla from the influential Remulla clan of Cavite. Third nominee is Von Bryan Cuerpo, son of Rodriguez, Rizal Mayor Pedro Cuerpo.
10. AKO BICOL	Bicol-based partylist group claiming to advocate progress and development of the Bicol Region. Its officers include a Dr. Dennis Febueno of the Commission of Higher Education.	Reported first nominee is big businessman Elizalde Co who is reportedly also close with Gloria Arroyo. Co is known as the biggest contractor in the Bicol region according to reports. Second nominee is outgoing Legazpi mayor Noel Rosal.
11. Alagad	Claims to represent the urban poor	Nominees include Sergio Manzana, mayor of Pangil, Laguna

12. Alliance of Bicolnon Party	The Alliance of Bicolnon Party describes itself as a regional political party representing the Bicol Region.	The Alliance of Bicolnon Party has father-and-son tandem of architects Enrique Olonan and Henry Steve Olonan. The Olonans are a prominent family of businessmen from Catanduanes. Enrique Olonan has been, among other things, a director of the Chamber of Real Estate Builders Association.
13. Alliance of Mindanao Elders (AME)	Claims to advocate interests of senior citizens throughout the country.	AME's first nominee is Alfonso Goking, a councilor of Cagayan de Oro City who is a member of the Lakas-Kampi coalition.
14. Alliance of People's Organizations (APO)	Its Facebook fan page reads "APO of Salacnib Baterina". Its advocacy is the "scrapping of the oil deregulation law".	First nominee is businessman, Arroyo ally and former Ilocos representative Salacnib Baterina. Third nominee is Anna Marie Ablan, daughter of Ilocos Norte Rep. Roque Ablan Jr.
15. Alliance of Transport Sector	Claims to represent the transport sector	Four of its five nominees are government officials. The first is Philippine Postal Savings Bank President and former Transportation and Communication Asst. Secretary Virgilio Montera. The rest of the nominees – Jaime Domdom, Leticia Gorospe, and Leopoldo Villarena – are all officials of the DoTC's Office of Transport Cooperatives.
16. ALMA sa Pagkahikahos at Ignoransya (ALMA)	Claims to represent small farmers and fisherfolk, as well as the rural and urban poor. It claims to have drawn most of its initial constituency from Central and Northern Luzon.	Second nominee Rodolfo Vicerra is the Director-General of the Congressional Planning and Budget Department of the 14 th Congress of the Philippines.
17. ANAD	Anti-communist group believed to be supported by the AFP.	Nominees include father and son tandem of Pastor Alcover, Jr. and Pastor Alcover II. The elder Alcover has described himself as an "anti-communist vigilante".
18. ANAK Partylist	Claims to represent the urban poor	ANAK Partylist, which claims to represent the urban poor, has former Police Senior Superintendent Eduardo Octaviano, Jr. and infamous "euro-general" Eliseo dela Paz as the first two nominees.
19. ANAKalusugan	Claims to promote and safeguard the health of Filipinos	First nominee is Col. Roland E. Kempis, a doctor and Commanding Officer of the AFP Medical Center. Kempis held the position under Gilbert Teodoro and Norberto Gonzales, according to the

		Department of National Defense website. The fourth nominee, Mohammad Ali Basir Lucman Magurang, is a presidential assistant.
20. Ang Agrikultura Natin Isulong (AANI)		First nominee is Roberto V. Rodriguez, mayor of Taytay, Palawan. The third is Jose Umadhay, an executive of the Philippine Phosphate Fertilizers Corporation (Philphos). The fifth nominee, Fiorello E. Azura, is a senior partner of the Azura Quiroz &amp; Campos Law Offices, which represents Philphos.
21. Ang Galing Pinoy	Multi-sectoral national party claiming to represent security guards, tricycle drivers and vendors. Formerly known as Guardians Pro-People Security Force. Its organizational documents were plagiarized from Bayan Muna's.	First nominee is Pampanga congressman and presidential son Mikey Arroyo. Second nominee is Lubao Mayor Dennis Pineda and third nominee is Bacolor Mayor Romeo "Buddy" Dungca. All three are elected officials from Pampanga and members of the ruling coalition Lakas-Kampi.
22. Ang Kasangga	Partylist claims to represent small entrepreneurs. Its current representative is Ma. Lourdes Arroyo, sister of First Gentleman Mike Arroyo.	Ang Kasangga's new first nominee is businessman Teodorico T. Haresco who, as one website says, "is primarily known for his involvement in the President's Bridge Program, a sustained infrastructure and fast-track rural development project spanning over 14 years." Haresco also sits on the Board of Directors of the PNOC. In December 2005, British newspaper The Guardian ran an article about Mabey &amp; Johnson Ltd., a British firm "accused of making excessive profits in an aid project, by building what their critics call bridges to nowhere". The Guardian cited Haresco, of the President's Bridges Program, as the Philippine contact of the British firm. Second nominee is Eugenio Jose V. Lacson, a scion of the affluent Lacson clan of Negros and a three-term mayor of San Carlos City, Negros Occidental and a member of the Nationalist People's

		Coalition (NPC) – United Negros Alliance. Last Jan.21, he endorsed the candidacy of admin bet Gilbert Teodoro. Third nominee is Anna Maria Nava, the wife of current Guimaras Gov. Felipe Nava. Fourth nominee is Enrique V. Martin a Board Member of the Capiz provincial government. Fifth nominee Segundo M. Gaston is the Senior Vice President for support and subsidiaries of the Philippine National Construction Corp. (PNCC)
23. Ang Mata'y Alagaan		Third nominee is Chief Presidential Legal Counsel and former Sandiganbayan Justice Raoul Victorino.
24. APOI Partylist	Claims to support the cause of overseas Filipino workers. Describes itself in its website as “an accredited organization of the Department of Labor and Employment...via a linkage with the Sentro ng Manggagawang Pinoy for a program organized by the Philippine Overseas Employment Agency and the Overseas Workers Welfare Administration”.	APOI Partylist has Maj. Gen. Melchor Rosales, the administrator of the Office of Civil Defense and current DILG executive, as its first nominee. Its fourth nominee, Katherine Mari S. Garcia, is a lawyer for the Puno &amp; Puno Law Offices, whose clientele counts several multinational corporations as well as big Filipino businessmen like Henry Sy and the Aboitizes.
25. ARARO	Claims to represent farmers	ARARO’s first nominee is former PNP Regional 3 chief PC/Supt Quirino dela Torre. Many have pointed out the irony that it was during his stint as police chief that the Hacienda Luisita massacre happened.
26. Association of Labor and Employees (ALE)	Partylist claims to represent workers.	Association of Labor and Employees (ALE) has Pampanga provincial board member, businesswoman and known Arroyo ally Catalina Bagasina as its first nominee. Bagasina owns a cargo forwarding company.

		Erlinda M.B. de Leon, Ms Arroyo's first cousin, is its second nominee. De Leon, according to the Office of the President's website, served as a special assistant to the President. Its third nominee, Ma. Michaela D. Magtoto, is the operations manager of the Prime Review Center.
27. BAGO Partylist	Claims to represent the Bago tribe of Region I. Its president is Alexander Bistoyong, Ilocos Sur's Provincial Consultant for Upland Municipalities and a former Board Member of the same province.	Third nominee is B/Gen. Manuel E. Mariano, Jr. who was the Asst. Division Commander of the 7th Infantry Division, Philippine Army, in 2008
28. Bagong Henerasyon (BH)	Claims to represent youth, women, and the people of communities	Bagong Henerasyon (BH) partylist has husband and wife as its first two nominees. Former Quezon City councilor Bernadette Herrera-Dy and her husband businessman Edgar Allan D. Dy are the first two nominees.
29. Bandila (Bagong Bayan na Nagtataguyod ng Demokratikong Ideolohiya at Layunin) Party-List	Bandila competed in the partylist race during the 2007 elections. Its nominees included retired police general Lucas Managuelod and Benasing Macarambon III, a scion of the wealth and powerful Macarambon clan of Lanao.	Nominees include Nilo Tayag and actor Juan Miguel Bondoc.  Tayag, a former activist, went over to the Marcos regime after a short period in detention during Martial Law. He helped organize support rallies for the Estrada regime at the height of the oust-Estrada campaign. After Estrada's ouster, he moved over to the Arroyo camp, and in 2006 was part of the "people's initiative" charter change campaign Sigaw ng Bayan, which was orchestrated by Arroyo allies. As of September 2009, he was being considered for inclusion in the senatorial lineup of the Marcoses' Kilusang bagong Lipunan.  Bondoc hails from a family of wealthy businessmen and himself owns several businesses including the Benedictine International School of Quezon City.

30. BANTAY True Marcos Loyalists	Claims to represent security guards, barangay tanods etc. Current representative is Gen. Jovito Palparan.	First nominee is Evangeline Palparan, wife of Gen. Jovito Palparan. Mrs. Palparan is a dentist in the AFP Dental Service.
31. Batang Iwas Droga (BIDA)	BIDA was earlier assailed by watchdog Kontra Daya for being ineligible for partylist accreditation because it is a government funded and initiated entity. In its website, BIDA says it is the brainchild of PAGCOR chair Efraim Genuino.	Batang Iwas Droga has Sheryl Genuino-See, daughter of PAGCOR chairman Efraim Genuino, as its first nominee. Sheryl See was also a previous nominee of Bigkis Pinoy, a partylist also affiliated with PAGCOR's Genuino. Other nominees of BIDA like Johnny Tan have been associated with the partylist group Bigkis Pinoy. It is not clear when See and Tan resigned from Bigkis Pinoy to become nominees of BIDA. BIDA's fifth nominee appears to be Special Prosecutor Dennis Villa-Ignacio, who is presently a nominee for the Chief Justice's position.
32. BUHAY Partylist	Claims to protect and support the unborn, the sick, the disabled and others not capable of protecting themselves alone, through observance of their basic right to live	BUHAY Partylist has father and son Mariano Velarde , Jr. and evangelist Bro. Mike Velarde as the first and fifth nominees respectively. Mike Velarde is not only the leader of the Catholic charismatic group El Shaddai but is also a millionaire who owns Amvel Land Development Corporation. Buhay's other nominees include William Irwin Tieng, whose family controls Solar Sports.
33. Confederation of Non-Stock Savings and Loan Associations, Inc. CONSLA	The group represents savings and loan associations and their members. The financial assets of CONSLA members is reportedly up to P60 billion, with 5,000 individual depositors.	Nominees include former Air Force Col. Ricardo Nolasco, Jr., former Navy Rear Admiral George T. Uy, and former Col. Samuel Padilla.
34. Itinerant Vendors Alliance of the Philippines Inc.	Partylist group claims to represent vendors	The third nominee, Manggay M. Guro, is mayor of Marantao, Lanao del Sur

35. KABAYAN	The group claims to represent transport workers, farmers and fisherfolk, persons with disabilities, senior citizens, anti-crime crusaders, overseas Filipino workers, government workers, industrial workers, urban and rural poor, migrant workers and seafarers, and students, youth and professionals.	KABAYAN has Palace exec Ron Salo as first nominee. Salo was undersecretary under the Office of the Executive Secretary of Eduardo Ermita in 2009 Salo was with the Presidential Legislative Liaison Office before moving to the OES.
36. PACYAW	Partylist claims to represent urban poor youth. PACYAW is advocating sports development among the youth.	The partylist group Pilipino Association for Country / Urban Poor Youth Advancement and Welfare (PACYAW) has as its first nominee Department of Tourism Asst. Secretary Janet Rita B. Lazatin. She is a member of the Lakas-CMD party and hails from the first district of Pampanga.  Its second nominee is businessman and former Los Angeles Consul Reynaldo Pineda, who is also based in Pampanga.
37. Philippine Coconut Producers Federation (Cocofed)	The Philippine Coconut Producers Federation (Cocofed) is comprised of both landlords and farmers, as well as businessmen.	Cocofed's third nominee is Jose Lobregat, a scion of the wealthy Lobregat clan of Zamboanga, who also owns a cable TV company."
38. SAGIP		Nominee includes former police general Romeo Maganto
39. Sulong Barangay Movement	Claims to represent the "marginalized, the underprivileged, the underrepresented and the less fortunate people, workers and officials of the barangays"	First nominee is businessman and former vice-presidential candidate and Tarlac Vice Governor Herminio Aquino, a grand-uncle of presidential candidate Noynoy Aquino
40. YES WE CAN		First nominee is Maynard Lapid, son of Senator Lito Lapid. Second nominee is Noah N. Nocon, kagawad of Brgy. San Lorenzo, Makati City.